

A community's commitment makes the difference

Thanks to FIU's College of Medicine, the future of health care in South Florida is looking brighter.

In the spirit of community based care, MS Centers of Florida Foundation is pleased to announce plans to establish a world class neuroscience center in concert with Mercy Hospital. The creation of the Florida Neuroimaging Analysis Center is already drawing some of the finest neurologic researchers in the world to conduct their scientific investigations here in our community. People like Robert Zivadinov, M.D., professor of neurology in the FIU College of Medicine, has been appointed director of the Florida Neuroimaging Analysis Center.

Under the project leadership of Jeffrey L. Horstmyer, M.D., chairman of the FIU College of Medicine Department of Neurology, this new center will bring attention to the most underserved neurological issues facing South Floridians today, starting with MS – the number one cause of disability in young adults. No longer will MS patients have to travel outside Florida for treatment at a comprehensive care center. This state-of-the-art facility will become the cornerstone for other comprehensive care centers. Its impact will touch every family in our community as these researchers seek to unlock the mysteries surrounding the most devastating neurological disorders.

For more information about the MS Centers of Florida Foundation and how you can help advance the health of our community, contact Dr. Horstmyer via email at msmiami1@gmail.com.
